INCAST Magazine becomes official magazine of ICI & EICF

Association activities are about cooperation and this applies also to cooperation between Associations. The Atlantic city of Porto was selected to cement the agreement reached by the Investment Casting Institute and the European Investment Casters’ Federation making INCAST the official magazine of both associations

The theme adopted by the EICF booth “Together we are stronger” was more than appropriate to symbolize the agreement. Since June 2018, the occasion of the 65th anniversary of the formation of the ICI in June 1953, the INCAST magazine is distributed to stakeholders at both sides of the Atlantic.

The EICF Chairmanship term is for two years. At the EICF Annual General Meeting held in Porto on the 22 of April 2018, Virgilio Oliveira was elected Chairman of the EICF for the period 2018 – 2020. Cooperative Research & Industry Defence

Research is key to leading competitiveness. Within the EICF members, we have the privilege to count a series of reputed Research & Technology Organizations. With the coordination of Tecnia Research & Innovation the EICF has attended a “Call for comments” from the ECHA (The European Chemicals Agency is the driving force among regulatory authorities in implementing the EU's groundbreaking chemicals legislation for the benefit of human health and the environment as well as for innovation and competitiveness) relative to a potential restriction in the use of microplastics.

Production of the wax pattern is an essential step in the entire complex investment casting process as it guarantees the geometry requirements and surface conditions of the final component. Investment casting wax is a mixture of natural and artificial waxes, resins and different additives. One of the latter is a microplastic called XLPS or Crosslinked Polystyrene. The EICF working group submitted a report to the ECHA providing the impact assessment for the Investment Casting Industry on a potential ban on microplastics

Education & Qualification of IC Professionals

With its aspiration to provide an Investment Casting European education & qualification course the EICF has been in contact during the year 2018 with several Universities and Research Organizations. The difficulties in implementing this course at European level are genuine, but there is enthusiasm among those institutions to cooperate and build up such an important element to support the industry and to attract new professionals to it. Contacts and working activity will continue during 2019 in order to achieve this aspiration.

Cooperation with IC Associations

The EICF sustains relations with the Investment Casting Institute from America, the Japan Foundry Society from Japan, the Investment Casting Branch Association of China Foundry Association, the Taiwan Foundry Society and others in India, Brasil and Korea. These associations networking facilitate the interchange of experiences and the integration of world market and statistical data to the benefit of the European members.

All those associations were present or represented at the 29th EICF International Conference contributing with others to the global Investment Casting market review
